SUSPENDED SENTENCES FOR DRUNK DRIVERS END

"I Shot Him; He Forced Me To," Is Pincos' Confession

Statement Taken By Police From Man Accused of Murdering Clarence N. Pappas on May 1 Admits Slaying; Defendant Sent to Trial at Conclusion of Preliminary Hearing

All Confession Is Not Admitted

"I shot him all right. I am not trying to hide myself. He forced me to and that is all." With this confession in the court records John Pincos was committed for trial, charged with the slaying of Clarence Nicholas Pappas, former partner of the Liberty Cafe, when the preliminary hearing concluded in the City Police Court this morning.

The prosecution sought to introduce the complete confession, alleged to have been made by the accused but the court sustained objections by defence counsel, H. W. Davey, which arose over its admission when it was disclosed that Chief Thomas Heatley had questioned Pincos during the making of his voluntary statement.

The first two lines of the confession, however, were admitted, since it was not until Pincos had admitted his guilt that the question was put. The hearing concluded to-day with the evidence of Inspector J. P. C. B. Vance, Vancouver criminologist, and T. Harvey Bamford, official clerk of the court, giving principal evidence for the Crown. C. L. Harrison conducted the prosecution.

Union Steamships Tied Up at Vancouver and Summer Resorts, Canneries and Logging Camps to North Lose Service

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 23.—The Union Steamship Company's fleet of coastwise vessels was tied up to-day as stewards, deckhands and freight handlers walked out. The Seafarers' Industrial Union called the strike, demanding restoration of the 1925 wage scale and the Coastwise Freight Handlers' Union demanded 100 per cent union employment on the docks.

The strike cuts off regular connections between Vancouver and the Pacific Great Eastern Railway terminal at Squamish, B.C., and services to west Howe Sound, many northern canneries, a number of logging camps and several popular summer resorts. Coming just before a holiday weekend, it threatened to disappoint hundreds of vacationists, while their families, now in summer camps, will be practically isolated.

Henriques, who has chalked up consecutive victories over Leonard Crawley, Leslie Garnett and Topping. Henriques is a stockbroker who says he "hates" tournament play.

Dykes will meet Tony Torrance, who made the sixth of the quarter-finals when he came back with a victory over H. L. Holden, Bowdon.

LITTLE NERVOUS
Little appeared to contract a case of the jitters after getting his slight opponent down three through the fifteenth. He hooked his drives wildly into traps on both the fifteenth and seventeenth holes. On his first attempt to play out of the trap on the sixteenth, he slipped and missed the ball completely, and finally conceded the hole in disgust after being in three traps.

The husky champion looked equally wobbly on the seventeenth, but on the "money hole" he showed the crowd which had been wildly cheering Black what he could do when the chips were on the table. He hit a perfect drive ten yards past Black, lofted a high pitch fifteen feet past the cup and then holed for a winning birdie three.

The fourth round—which brought the field down to sixteen players for this afternoon's eighteen-hole round—saw another big upset as Cyril Tolley, twice former champion, was eliminated by A. M. Goodwin, Swinton Park, thirty-nine-year-old Manchester stockbroker, winner by one hole.

ARTHUR BRISBANE ON WOMEN IN JOBS

Associated Press
New York, May 23.—Love and marriage are the "important things" for women, said Arthur Brisbane, noted columnist and editor, yesterday.

Speaking at a luncheon of business women, Brisbane said that sometimes women in business forget that "getting married is the greatest thing" they can do.

Brisbane added, also, that every married woman should have six children.

INDIAN TRIAL IN VANCOUVER

Chief Justice Transfers
George Hearing From Vernon; Murders Charged

Vancouver, May 23.—Vernon for the trial of Richardson, Kneass, Alex and Joseph George, Canadian Reserve Indian brothers, charged with the murders on May 23, 1934, of Provincial Constable Percy Carr and Dominion Constable F. H. Gishbourne, was transferred to-day in the B.C. Supreme Court by Chief Justice Aulay Morrison from Vernon to Vancouver.

Richardson, Kneass and Alex were convicted of the murder of Constable Gishbourne at the Vernon assize last June, and were sentenced by Mr. Justice Denis Murphy to be hanged October 25 last. After granting a reprieve, the British Columbia Court of Appeal on December 12 ordered a new trial for the accused. The crown's application for leave to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada was dismissed.

In the meantime, Joseph had recovered from injuries sufficiently to stand a preliminary hearing and was committed for trial on murder charges involving both officers.

Recently Attorney-General Gordon Ross gave notice that he intended to proceed with the Carr murder charge in the cases of the other three.

DATE IN JUNE

The date for the new trial has not been set. It is considered possible a special sitting of the assizes may be held in June.

Stuart Henderson of Victoria, counsel with Henry Castillon of Vancouver for the Indian brothers, applied for a change in venue from Vernon to Kamloops, and when J. T. Nicholson, who appeared for the crown, asked for the venue to be fixed in Vancouver, Mr. Henderson agreed.

KIWANIS HAS NEW LEADER

Mr. Gattison, prominent in Kiwanis affairs since 1922, succeeds Dr. William J. Carrington of Atlanta City, N.J.

In the elections yesterday Gordon S. Dodington of Toronto, was named Canadian vice-president, succeeding his fellow townsman, William R. Rockburn.

Vancouver, May 23.—Grant McConeh, young Calgary pilot, hopped off at 1:30 this afternoon today for Calgary, planning to fly his big tri-motor airplane direct to the foot-hills city in an attempt to complete the first return commercial flight over the Rocky Mountains. T. Reid, M.P. For New West- minster, Proposes Currency Act Be Amended

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 23.—Thomas Reid, New Westminster Liberal, to-day gave notice on the House of Commons order paper that he would introduce a bill to remonetize silver.

Mr. Reid, who said he believed Canada as a leading silver-producing nation should set an example to other countries, would bring about remonetization of silver through three amendments to the Currency Act.

His bill proposes a change in the silver content of coins set in 1921 at 500 parts by weight in every 1,000 parts to 525 parts of silver in new coins and 75 parts silver.

PAYMENT IN SILVER
It would repeal the law which legalizes payment in silver of debts up to $10 and make payment in silver legal up to any amount.

It would continue the restriction of note payment in nickel coins to 55, but wipe out the provision that persons holding notes shall be bound to accept more than $10 in silver coins. This would have the effect of making payment of notes in silver legal to any amount.

SILVER OUTPUT
Canada's production of silver for 1934 was placed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at 16,441,561 ounces, worth $7,803,218. The average price during the year was 47.46 cents an ounce.

Silver prices bounded up several weeks ago when the United States announced a policy of purchasing foreign silver at 50 cents an ounce, and yesterday's spot quotation on the Canadian Commodity Exchange at Montreal was 75.35 cents an ounce, 27.89 above the 1934 average price.

Canada stood third among silver-producing nations at the end of 1934, being behind Mexico and the United States in that order.

also produced other clothing, including a shirt, underwear, pants, collar, necktie, shoes, socks, a handkerchief and a toupee, which were worn by Pappas.

MET ACCUSED IN BEER PARLOR
Albert John Blair, 1934 Esquimalt Road, testified he had met Pincos at the Halfway House on April 30 at 9:30 p.m. He had also seen him twice before on the same day, in the Coach and Horses. This had been at 4 p.m. and later at 7:30 o'clock. When he had seen him at 4 o'clock he had asked him how he felt.

"He said he wasn't too good," witness said. "He said he was down and out and was waiting to see Harry Hodgson, the proprietor of the Coach and Horses. He wanted the loan of $300, which, as far as I could learn, was for taxes, and he was waiting for Hodgson to come in."

To Mr. Davey witness said he had known the accused for six years. His character had always been good as far as the accused knew, he had a good disposition, and was a very quiet type. When witness saw him he appeared to be very depressed.

John Ford, 471 Constance Avenue, testified he met Pincos at 3:10 a.m. on May 1, about half-an-hour after the date the prosecution alleges the murder took place, walking home towards Esquimalt. He talked about general subjects, witness inquiring about the safe and hotel business. He had left Pincos at the corner of Constance Avenue and Loyal Street.

Under cross-examination he said he had always known the accused as a conscientious, harmless and inoffensive man.

Constable Stancombe, Esquimalt police, was recalled and testified he testified he had been a short of his knee, which the accused was wearing at the time he gave himself up to Esquimalt police, and which Mr. Davey requested to have put in as an exhibit.

DESCRIBES CONFESSION
Clerk T. H. Bamford told of the taking of the confession. Those present at the time, which was shortly after 10 o'clock on the morning of May 1, were C. L. Harrison, Chief Heatley, Detective Inspector McCallan and Constable Stancombe.

During the reading of the confession defence counsel objected to this recorded statement made by Inspector McCallan. "I understand from the Esquimalt man he wants to make a clean breast of it." The court ruled this was not a question to the accused and had only been a passing remark by the inspector.

Patrick J. Sinnott, barrister and solicitor, was called. The late Clarence Pappas had been a client of his, he said. He testified he wrote a letter to Pincos on March 27 of this year instructing Pincos to vacate premises at 1838 Esquimalt Road owned by his late client. Mr. Sinnott said he received no reply to this letter from the accused. (The letter was introduced at an earlier sitting.)

Inspector McCallan recounted details of the taking of the confession. To Mr. Davey he said he had not noticed that the accused was either nervous or upset at the time the statement was taken.

Before the case closed, Mr. Davey reiterated his objection to Dr. Vance's evidence. Defence was reserved.

CASH REGISTER CHECKED UP
Marshall, Minn., May 23 (Canadian Press).—A. J. Gog, druggist here, caught his cash register robbing himself. When he took the cash register apart at the bottom he found $107.50 in dimes, four pennies and a quarter. The coins had slipped through an unnoticed crack.

BULLET HOLE IN DOOR
Inspector Vance produced a cupboard door and board, taken by police from Pincos's home at 1838 Esquimalt Road. There was a bullet hole in the door, and the bullet was found in the shelf. Fragments of brass were found by the inspector on the door.

These, he testified, came from a cartridge case found in the door.

This evidence was given to corroborate testimony at a previous sitting that what was described as a "practice" shot had been made by Pincos in his home, a few hours prior to the murder.

The gun found by police, a .38 calibre Smith and Wesson, with five empty cartridges in the chamber, was exhibited and the broken cartridge shown.

Inspector Vance also exhibited bullet fragments which had entered the body of Pappas, and an overcoat, suit coat and hat with bullet marks. These were the clothes worn by the slain man when he was shot and holes in the overcoat corresponded with those in the suit jacket, he said.

In cross-examining Dr. Vance, Mr. Davey questioned his ability with firearms. Dr. Vance said he had twenty-eight years' experience with them. It was difficult to judge the distance from which the shots were fired, but from powder marks on the hat he estimated the revolver had been less than two feet from the hat.

REVOLVER IDENTIFIED
Detective Warren Woodburn identified the revolver produced by Dr. Vance as the one which he found on Osego Street during the investigation which followed the murder. He also identified the empty cartridge and the clothing, all of which he had turned over to the mainland criminologists.

He told of a visit with Detective Henry F. Jarvis and Constable Gilbert Stancombe to the accused's home on Esquimalt Road, where they found the bullet hole in the cupboard and on the board, which had been used as a shelf.

He also produced a bullet taken from behind a step in the front of the Karras home at 235 Montreal Street, where Pappas lived and was shot in the back as he walked along the cement approach to the house.

Detective Jarvis corroborated evidence of Detective Woodburn and told of receiving keys from Peter Karras at the Liberty Cafe, with which he had admitted the police to the Pincos home.

Constable Reginald P. Lansing gave evidence of taking the deceased man's clothing to police headquarters. He

No Conscription For Germans Here

Canadian Press
New York, May 23.—Pending official word as to the effect of the German conscription order issued Tuesday in Berlin, it was explained here, natives of Germany in Canada and the United States, whether naturalized or not, would be considered German citizens by the government at Berlin.

Submission to the conscription order in the case of residents of Canada or the United States would presumably be voluntary.

STORE CLOSING HOUR DEBATED

Vancouver, May 23.—A by-law to make 9 p.m. the closing hour for all stores in Vancouver handling groceries and vegetables either partly or exclusively was asked from the city council yesterday by George Matthews, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, British Columbia branch.

The association agrees that certain stores should be permitted to remain open after 9 p.m., among them those selling candy, stationery, tobacco, milk, bread or delicatessen products exclusively and drug stores for the sale of medicines.

Sale of groceries and vegetables is now prohibited after 9 p.m., but the association claims the by-law is not enforced.

Representations on Eight-hour Day Bill to Be Made Before Committee

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 23.—Controversies on the eight-hour day bill will be ironed out next Tuesday and Wednesday before the Senate banking and commerce committee. Railway, lumber, coal and several street car interests in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces will be invited to appear to make representations on their protests read yesterday by Senator P. E. Black, Conservative, New Brunswick, committee chairman, it was decided.

A difference of opinion has developed on the amendment passed by the House of Commons exempting employees in railway running trades for one year because of working agreements terminating in March, 1936. Unemployed railwaymen, for example, represent that by bringing railway workers under the bill immediately or by shortening the period of exemption it would reduce unemployment.

SPKESMEN INVITED

In order to hear all parties to the issue, notification that the committee will receive oral representations on Tuesday morning is being sent to representatives of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways; J. E. Laliberte, Quebec; E. P. Daniel, Toronto, and I. E. Wilder, Toronto, representing unemployed railwaymen; Thomas Todd, Hamilton, of the Order of Railway Conductors; H. B. Chase, Montreal, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; W. L. Bass, Ottawa, for the locomotive firemen, and J. L. Labrenche, Ottawa, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Views of lumber operators who want certain exemption regulations will be heard on Tuesday afternoon.

The maximum for public school teachers may be decreased $200 to $1,600.

BRITISH SUDAN REPORT DENIED

London, May 23.—A British War Office spokesman yesterday branded reports from Rome that Great Britain had concentrated troops along the Sudan-Ethiopian frontier as "Italian propaganda" containing "no truth whatever."

In Rome the authoritative Giornale d'Italia, in an apparently inspired article yesterday said there was a heavy British concentration of troops, planes and war materials along the Sudan-Ethiopian frontier.

New Yorkers Hear Coughlin

Associated Press
New York, May 23.—Before an enthusiastic crowd estimated at more than 18,000 in Madison Square Garden yesterday evening, Rev. Charles E. Coughlin called for the dooming of capitalism in the United States if it stood in the way of "social justice," and condemned the President's veto of soldiers' bonus bill.

"If capitalism stands in the way of social justice," he declared, "it should be voted out of existence."

The priest of Royal Oak, Mich., assailed newspapers, bankers, the United States government's work relief wage scale, the money system and industrial chieftains.

Propounding the dicta of his National Union for Social Justice, Father Coughlin's remarks were interrupted frequently by cheers and howls of derision against those who came under his fire.

The priest's address was spiced with such phrases as "kept men of journalism," "the prostituted press," "spoiled politicians," "the repeated challenges to the press gallery to 'print that in your newspapers.'"

PEOPLE VETOED

The bonus question, he charged, was one of ruthless opposition by bankers coupled with the loss by Congress of the right to coin and regulate money. "I am afraid it was not the soldier alone who vetoed this afternoon—it was the American people," he said.

"Much as I dislike making this remark, may I remind the President, with all due respect, that not one of these soldiers or sailor boys cast a ballot on that fateful Good Friday night in the spring of 1917 to force a peace loving nation to take up arms for the profiteers and exploiters of mankind," he said.

Father Coughlin on the wildly responsive throng to deluge the United States Senate today with telegrams demanding enactment of the Soldiers' bonus bill.

Twenty-seven men and women were arrested for distributing Communist literature among the crowd.

Dogs Which Killed Boy to Be Slain

Canadian Press
The Pas, Man., May 23.—Recommending the immediate destruction of the three dogs responsible for the death of six-year-old Mike Segno, a coroner's jury yesterday evening returned a verdict at the inquest on the fatal mauling of the little boy. The jury praised Mrs. Kryschuk, who at the risk of her own safety tried to save the boy's life as the dogs attacked him.

The jury recommended also that freight dogs be not allowed within a mile radius of the limits of this northern town, in the summer, when they are not at work.

On the witness stand Louis St. Luke, local poundkeeper, identified the animals responsible for the child's death as three heavy type huskies, licensed by the town and owned by Gabriel Campbell, local trapper and fisherman.

CAMP RULES ARE OUTLINED

Document Tabled in Commons Reports on Relief Centres

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 23.—Government policy on relief camps operated by the Department of National Defence gives those employed therein complete freedom of movement, according to a voluminous document tabled in the House of Commons yesterday.

The document covers all regulations issued by the department for administration of these institutions. The purpose of the camps was to provide relief for "homeless, single men," who were otherwise uncared for in other relief schemes.

Accommodation, food, clothing and medical care, and a daily allowance of 20 cents, were furnished, while the men were required to work eight hours a day, with Saturday afternoons, Sundays and statutory holidays observed.

ARMY FOOD

"The standard of rations shall be that as prescribed for the army," continue the regulations. "This is, however, indicated as the only contact point between the camps and anything relating to the army, for the next regulation sets forth:

"No military discipline, training shall be instituted. The status of the individual shall remain civilian in all respects."

Responsibility for the care of the men lies with the officer in charge of the camp. It is his object, the regulations declare, to ensure that the men's efficiency—mentally, physically, and as their trades—is so improved that when conditions permit the men may be returned to the economic life of the country "well able to gain to take up their usual work."

To assist in this, education and instructional classes were formed, and the men were given every encouragement to take up recreation and sport.

"Strange Street" Out In London

Autobiography of Beverley Baxter Prominently Reviewed in British Papers

Canadian Press
London, May 23.—"Strange Street," the autobiography of A. Beverley Baxter, forty-four-year-old Torontonian who became editor-in-chief of Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express, was prominently reviewed in today's newspapers.

It relates the story of the rise of the former assistant in a music shop in Toronto to a high post in Fleet Street, a junior partner of the famous "Max and Box" combine, and finally to a position as a $50,000 a year publicity executive for a British film corporation.

"Strange Street" reveals Lord Beaverbrook's undying affection for Andrew Bonar Law, "the other New Brunswick boy whom he made prime minister of Great Britain." It describes how the newspaper peer was present at the death of Bonar Law.

Shortly after, "an old man with sunken, colorless cheeks and stooped shoulders walked away from the House."

The book contains many sidelights on the character of Lord Beaverbrook, who was Sir Max Aitken before his elevation to the peerage.

HIS EARLY WRITING

Even in the piano-selling period in Ontario Baxter had the itch for writing. He discovered that when he wrote for the "peculiar requirements" of a particular magazine his writing was returned. When he wrote something "to please himself" the editor of again returned it, but with the advice, given in all sincerity, that it should be sent to a magazine of greater standing.

WAR SERVICE

Baxter went overseas with the Canadians in 1915. He devoted exactly twenty-three lines to his service at the front. "I received no decorations for the reason, probably, that my fighting was neither sufficiently forward nor far enough back." Nevertheless he became a casualty through exposure.

How he pecked his friends in England to gain him a first interview with Lord Beaverbrook makes engaging reading.

MAYOR McGEER'S COMPLETE ANSWER

IT DID NOT TAKE MAYOR McGEER long to reply to Prime Minister Bennett's strictures of Vancouver's action in seeking reduction of bond interest. Mr. Bennett had declared that this action, together with that of the Ontario government in cancelling certain power contracts, had destroyed Canada's credit in the United Kingdom.

Mr. McGeer tells Mr. Bennett that whatever actions were necessary were due to deplorable conditions now existing throughout the Dominion which are due to the misguided and unsound policies that Mr. Bennett has put into operation.

After five years of Mr. Bennett's leadership, Vancouver's mayor reminds the Prime Minister, our railways are bankrupt, our international trade has fallen to inconsequential levels, our provinces and our municipalities are hopelessly in debt, our taxpayers are unable to meet their obligations, confiscation by taxation and mortgage is the order of the day, destitution is the lot of the masses and armed force is necessary to maintain constituted authority.

Under Mr. Bennett's administration we have lost caste with the Motherland and our sister overseas Dominions. There is practically no nation that is not offering some form of trade reprisal against us. As Mr. McGeer says, for Mr. Bennett at this stage of his own unfortunate political career to attack men like himself and the Premier of Ontario is an indication that Mr. Bennett has never learned the wisdom of the saying that one should not undertake to take the mote out of his brother's eye while he has a beam in his own.

Mayor McGeer points out that the action taken by the city of Vancouver in endeavoring to secure an adjustment in interest rates was based on two propositions—first, that the wages of men having gone down, the wages of money should follow a similar course; second, if the bondholders continued to exact the present rate of interest, they would force the city of Vancouver into bankruptcy and jeopardize the entire investment in our city bonds.

His Worship goes on to declare that it is in the best interests of the bondholders that interest rates should be reduced to the plane where his city can meet its obligations, for if that is not done, the bondholders will not only lose interest but will lose principal as well.

Mr. Bennett, of course, can see nothing but the continuation of the pre-depression wages of money, concluded Mayor McGeer. "He is of the type of individual who places money values above everything else. It is because of this attitude that his administration has failed so pitifully."

The commentary on this, of course, is that Mr. Bennett, on account of his financial associations, is completely out of touch with the ordinary people of the country and, therefore, does not understand their problems—which have become considerably more perplexed under his administration than they were before.

THE PATMAN BILL

THE UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES has passed, by a vote of 322 to 98, what is known as the Patman bonus bill over the President's veto. The House passed the bill the first time this year on March 22, disregarding Mr. Roosevelt's threat that he would veto it if it reached his desk. He made his appeal for support of his veto to Congress in person—the first personally delivered in history. The bill is now before the Senate, and it is confidently expected that that chamber will uphold the President. To override the veto a two-thirds majority of both Houses is required—already registered in the lower House.

The House of Representatives has a habit of passing the Patman bill—which is sponsored by Representative Wright Patman, Texas Democrat. It has approved the essentials of the measure three times since 1932. As the bill came through this year it would cash the veterans' bonus certificates by a $2,000,000,000 issue of United States notes. To follow this course, said the President to Congress, would be to insure "disastrous consequences."

Bonus certificates to United States veterans of the Great War were issued on January 1, 1925, with a life of twenty years—due in full in 1945. The Patman bill asks that the certificates be redeemed now. The point the President makes is that the veterans, many of whom never left the United States at all, should not be singled out for still more favorable treatment, especially under present economic conditions, after everything else the United States has done for them.

The United States has been historically unfortunate in the matter of pensions. Every year very large amounts of money have to be paid to veterans and veterans' dependents of the Civil War of 1861, while not very long ago it was discovered that pensions were being paid even to descendants of soldiers who fought in the War of Independence. Thus it is not surprising that President Roosevelt, at this stage, is not in the mood to sanction the issuance of two billions of dollars of what he terms "printing press money"—because it is an invitation to "an ultimate reckoning in uncontrollable prices and in the destruction of the value of savings."

Needless to add, the United States veterans' organizations for several years have been campaigning and lobbying for cash payment of these bonus certificates. This year, however, it has been more insistent than ever.

BASEBALL IN RUSSIA

NOT THE LEAST INTERESTING OF recent dispatches from Russia is the announcement that the game of baseball is beginning to take hold in the land of the Soviets.

Already a national baseball league has been founded. Nine provincial cities have organized teams, and eight more are being organized in Moscow. A "baseball department" has been established in the supreme physical culture department, and the game is being introduced into the Red Army.

It would be instructive to learn just why baseball catches on in some countries and not in others. It has swept Japan like wildfire, for instance; it is as popular in Cuba as in the United States and Canada, and it is making headway in other Latin American lands.

But Russia is the only European country, to date, to go for it. Why should this be? Certainly such countries as Japan, America, Cuba, and Russia have little in common.

RETIRING PREMIERS?

THE RUMOR PERSISTS THAT PREMIER Bennett, on the advice of his medical advisers, is about to hand over to somebody else the duties of leading the Conservative party at the forthcoming general elections. It is suggested that he may do it before June 3 and allow Sir George Perley to lead the House until dissolution.

A dispatch from London this morning indicates that it is practically certain Mr. Stanley Baldwin will replace Premier Ramsay MacDonald as Prime Minister of what is called the National Government of Great Britain "within three weeks." Apparently a somewhat disturbing report from Mr. MacDonald's oculist is responsible for this prediction. It will be recalled that the Prime Minister's eyes have given him a good deal of trouble in the last two years, while his general health, due to heavy work, has been considerably impaired.

There would seem to be a connection between these two reports. June 3 will be the King's birthday. Mr. Bennett was present at the recent celebrations in Britain and Mr. MacDonald, as Prime Minister, naturally took a very important part. Mr. Bennett has worked hard for Canada. Mr. MacDonald has worked hard for Britain. Canada and Britain are the two senior Dominions of the British Commonwealth of Nations. It would thus appear that the King might like to honor both these Prime Ministers in his Silver Jubilee year in some form or another on June 3.

There is no difficulty about elevating Premier MacDonald to the peerage. Viscount Lonsdale, by the way, would seem to be a fitting title, if he wants one. Three great statesmen of the last century, Bright, Gladstone and Chamberlain, of course, were quite content to remain commoners, and Mr. Lloyd George is still one. But the translation of Mr. MacDonald from the Commons to the Lords would relieve him of an embarrassing situation. He is a lonely Prime Minister. It can not be gainsaid that the former ardent Socialist is merely tolerated in a Tory government.

Mr. Bennett's case is somewhat different. He is the master of his administration, but his physical condition is said to be inadequate to the strain and stress of a campaign. So we may be on the eve of contemplating the retirement of the first ministers of the two senior Dominions of the British Commonwealth.

GOING UP—NOT DOWN

SEVERAL BRITISH NEWSPAPERS ARE agreed that Britain's reorganized programme for the construction of fighting aircraft is the only course the country could follow and consider itself properly defended. It is to bring the fighting strength of the Royal Air Force up to 1,500 first-line home defence machines within the next two years. This replaces the former five-year programme and will put Britain on a par with France.

Mr. Baldwin made the announcement of the change in the House of Commons yesterday, and the approval of it is linked in current comment with pleas for agreement with Germany. Says The London Times: "No passage in Mr. Baldwin's speech is more welcome than the plea for perfect frankness between Britain and Germany." The comment of The Times, summarized, is that the cards of all the nations in respect of armaments should be placed right side up on the table.

But it remains for the Liberal Manchester Guardian, obviously feeling that a war in the air would mean the end of civilization, to say: "What is much more important than the government's policy of building up to Germany and France, is the question of what government is going to bring the size of all these air forces down."

In other words, if the nations of the world want to disarm, as most of them say they do, the proper thing to do is disarm. But when Maxim Litvinoff suggested this at the Disarmament Conference at Geneva he was glared at like the man who sang the wrong note at a community sing-song.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE LUNATIC FRINGE
Saint John Telegraph-Journal

A meeting in Messy Hall, Toronto, at which it is said three thousand people were present, recently declared for a nation-wide protest against war preparations by the Canadian government. It will astonish most of us that this country meditates making war on anybody, but there appear to be some anxious souls in Toronto. It is quite the funniest city in Canada. Always there is a sensation of some kind which passes and nobody is hurt. Nobody wants to be an alarmist, but only a group of mad fanatics would assert that the modest appropriation for defence approved by Parliament is too great. This is by no means a peaceful world in which we are living.

PARADOX ON THE FARM
The Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph

Although the Washington Government has taken unprecedented steps in the last two years to reduce farm production, an odd turn of events has resulted in a substantial increase in the number of farmers. Census Bureau officials estimate that at least half a million new farms have sprung up in the United States during the depression. For the most part, it is believed that this is due to the return to rural areas of city folk whose jobs vanished when factories shut down. Over a period of many years the American farm population steadily declined. It is surprising enough to find this trend reversed, over a five-year stretch; but to understand just how this reversal fits in with reducing farm production is quite a task.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

QUEER MAN

ONLY ONCE in a hundred years or so does nature heave up such a man as Lawrence of Arabia, who died this week. You could not read the first paragraph of his "Revolt in the Desert" without realizing instantly that here was a genius of first rank, but though his book was a classic it was a mere incident with this curious man. At twenty-four he was organizing the Arab tribes in their greatest fight since the days of the Crusades, he was living like an Arab and smashing the Turks in the most brilliant guerrilla warfare of modern times. No sooner was it over than he refused all honors because he felt the Arabs had been betrayed by Britain; changed his name and joined the Air Force as a private. And finally the man who might have gone anywhere or done anything, who could have been the most exciting figure in the world, died when he swerved to avoid hitting a greengrocer's messenger boy.

A curious end to a curious life; curiously unsatisfactory, considering the capacities of the man and what he might have done, and yet curiously fitting. When a few private soldiers buried Lawrence in a country churchyard the other day, with a few natives looking on, it seemed the sort of ending that you would expect, and he would desire, for the great and distinguishing thing about this mysterious career was the man's utter disregard for show, his complete disinterest in the world, and his realization that the glitter and tinsel had no meaning. History may find that out of the war came two personages of first rank, and probably only two, and both will live through the ideas they brought with them. One was Lenin, who gave the world its greatest revolution and greatest social experiment, a gigantic idea, whether we like it or not. The other was Lawrence, who gave the world nothing but a book and an Arab rebellion, but who lives on because he embodied, more vividly than any man in the last century, certain feelings about life, certain attitudes that every man would like to have, if he could. He was in our time the rebirth of a kind of chivalry and romance, unstained by any self-interest, that is found only in story books. He was the kind of man that every small boy, from seven years old to seventy, would like to be.

Men will feel the story of Lawrence of Arabia long after most of the things of our time are lost or forgotten. His name will be a legend, along with the ancient heroes of the race, long after the big shots and stuffed shirts have been forgotten—not because he accomplished anything of particular use, but because he touched a certain chord in human nature and made it seem capable of nobility in a time when it seemed everywhere mean and cheap.

FADE-OUT

IT TURNS OUT that the exotic tropical fish tad isn't as simple as you might think, and the rewards much more precarious than one had imagined. This column, as you won't recall, scored a notable success in announcing that many of Victoria's intellectuals were going in for exotic fish from the South Seas as a sort of counter-irritant for the depression. These creatures are kept in electrically-heated glass tanks and their great charm is their brilliant color and their quaint habits. That is to say, they usually eat their young. This makes them fascinating little pets.

Well, it is now discovered that you can't depend on them. They are temperamental and untrustworthy. A friend of mine, an eminent medical practitioner, equipped his home with exotic fish, built tanks, turned his house into an aquarium with fish, and they usually eat their young. This makes them fascinating little pets.

front door, and settled down to admire their gorgeous colors and quaint habits. And will you believe it, he discovered that if the exotic tropical fish don't like you they take a cruel and unnatural revenge. They fade their color until they are no better than our native bullheads. Until they learn to like you, until they feel at home, nothing will restore their color.

It is pitiful to think of an eminent medical practitioner with a house full of bullheads when he bought gorgeous tropical fish. But there is one compensation. They still have their quaint habits. They still eat their young.

EXECUTION

IT SEEMS that the newspapers were misinformed about the death of the last Beeson Hill buffalo. The creature did not die, as readers must have inferred, from old age or disease. He was executed.

Yes, he was shot until he was dead, by decree of the parks authorities. The sentence, no doubt, was just, since he had been guilty of infanticide in murdering his youngest son, but that was several years ago. Execution at that time would have been well justified, but according to the official version, he was finally executed not for his crime, but simply because they wanted some of his yard to grow flowers in. It seems rather hard to be shot because somebody wants to grow flowers in your yard, but in the whole it was a merciful deed. It is only fair to the parks authorities to explain that they ended the monstrous imprisonment of the creature of their own free will, and painlessly. Why they can't do as much for the little white bear I am not able to say.

The park has been the scene of a good many grisly killings. One of my most vivid recollections of my childhood is of the day when we went, as usual, to see the bears in the old bear pits, near the Dallas Road and not far from Lover's Walk. Instead of sitting on their post in the sun, the bears lay dead on the grass above the pits, covered with glass, and a bullet stood over them with a gun. The city had executed the bears, just as it executed the buffalo. I remember we cried about the poor bears for several days, and they haunted our dreams at night.

Apparently it is a good old Victorian custom to sentence animals to life imprisonment in our park and then change the sentence to execution. It would save a lot of trouble not to sentence them in the first place. It is expensive when you turn your park into a death cell.

PUBLIC BENEFACTOR

THE UNDUANT Miss Mae West is back in town again and is greeted, as usual, with interest in a community noted for its superior culture and high artistic ideals. This is a phenomenon of importance to students of our times. It will not do to say merely that Miss West has sex appeal and is a lovely creature. She hasn't and she isn't. She is now forty-two years old, according to recent revelations, a long-neglected gent is claiming to be her husband, and never ceasing to say she may be in private life, she makes herself appear peculiarly hideous, with a certain stark horror, on the screen. It is not passion that Miss West has stirred in the bosom of our civilization, but something deeper and more interesting.

I have been trying to figure out for sometime exactly what it is that has made her one of the great figures of her time, and I think you will find that she has captured civilization by showing the essential hollowiness of it. For a generation now we have been seeing on the screen and in the magazine a kind of tinsel-coated world of emotional females and gallant men whose emotions, reactions and destinies were far removed from the common rut of our daily lives. In this the movies have performed a valuable service by enabling people like you and me to forget for an hour or two a week what mugs we are. But even tinsel palls after a time. Even chocolate grows sour and even ethereal females become tiresome, after the first 100,000 or so. Into this lovely, unearthly world has come Miss West, as earthy as beef-steak and onions, and she makes the familiar unreality of the movies seem absurd and sickly, like the smell of faded lilies. At the bottom people are essentially crude and vulgar and common, and in Miss West they recognize a kindred spirit. It is not the wickedness of her films that appeals. It is their assault on all the pretty pretensions, and absurd, puffed-up, glided, false refinements of a civilization which is really coarse but tries to look refined.

In a nasal growl or two, in a grotesque ogling of the eyes, in a away of the torso, Miss West strips the pretence away, and the applause of the crowd shows that it understands her, that it speaks her language, that it is growing a bit bored with an artificial refinement which it has maintained only with great labor. Miss West, on the screen, is a truly appealing creature, ghastly beyond words, but she has performed a valuable public service. She has kidded modern life and the public has instinctively grasped the truth about it.

WARNING!

The Times urges its correspondents to restrict their contributions to 600 words. Henceforth it positively will not print communications which exceed that length.

These letters must be plainly written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the names and addresses of the writers, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Letters will not be re-written for publication. If they are not legible no attempt will be made to read them.

public on unemployment relief

In the first place he stated that only those physically able are required to work, and then on a basis of $3 per day.

Does Mr. Pattullo know that right here in Victoria are married men working six and half hours per day for $1.40, and having to do this for ten days each month?

The Minister of Labor knows this because I personally, in his own office, told him and produced proofs to him last February when he said he would remedy this, but so far it has not been remedied.

Secondly, our worth premier states he has increased the food allowance by 10 per cent and dependants' allowance by $1 each per month, but he did not say that he made it optional for the municipalities to pay it or not; consequently we have not received it in Victoria.

Had Mr. Pattullo forced the municipalities to pay their share of this increase with the same determination he is forcing the Fraser River Bridge on the people, we might have received the benefit of this increase. Thirdly, Mr. Pattullo states that $50,000 in wages was distributed to relief workers over and above the regular relief scale in 1934-35, but I can assure him that not a single relief man in Victoria received one cent of this money.

CHAIN LETTERS

To the Editor:—I wonder if the postmaster really took it on his own responsibility to send letters to the dead letter office at Ottawa. Does he know that for several years the postmen delivering mail on different routes were selling tickets on the Bille Association meet at Ottawa?

THANKS

To the Editor:—May I through the medium of your valuable column express my sincere thanks to all that assisted us in the May Queen contest, the Fraternal Order of Eagles for selecting me manager of the contest, Mr. P. E. George and his committee for the very fair treatment accorded to all of us in the contest, also Mr. P. Bickford and Miss E. Dilworth for the many courtesies extended.

JACK GRAHAM.

Manager P.O.E. Candidate,

May 22.

THANKS

To the Editor:—May I, through the columns of your paper thank those who so generously responded to the appeal for bedding, clothing, etc., for the relief camp workers. Contributions of cigarettes and a baseball glove were particularly welcomed.

These boys are still badly in need of clothing and any contributions would be gratefully received at their headquarters, 564 Yates Street, or by our good and willing committee at 724 Port Street. Socks are the most pressing need, although any other garments would be useful. Bedding also is rather scarce and if anyone could spare blankets or comforters they would be appreciated.

MRS. J. LEWIS.

President Women's League for Social Justice, 724 Port Street, Victoria,

THE WELSH CANDIDATE

To the Editor:—Through the medium of your valuable paper, I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to the Welsh Society for sponsoring me in the May Queen contest, to Mr. David Evans for acting as my campaign manager, and to the many friends, some of them unknown to me, who so generously supported me in this competition. Although unsuccessful in the competition I appreciate the opportunity being a candidate afforded me to become acquainted with so many friendly and courteous people. To Mr. Bickford, Miss Edna Dilworth and Mr. Hunter, the city clerk, I also wish to convey my appreciation for the co-operation and courtesy they have shown throughout the competition.

Sincerely,
HELEN R. THOMAS,

A COMPLAINT

To the Editor:—Every time I go near the area of our city for various concessions, including hot-dog and popcorn stands, I feel a wave of embarrassment come over me. I think our city fathers have erred in this matter. They should not have allowed such a thing. If I lived on any of those streets I believe I would try to do something about this latest "quaintness" of Victoria. Surely there are enough spare lots in Victoria for these things. The streets thus blocked are among the finest in the city. I tremble to think what our city would be like if they were to be taken away. They may think we are more "small-town" than we really are. Of course, on the other hand, they may be delighted with the novelty of it, for I am sure it must be a novelty. The householders along those streets will probably awake each morning to the smell of hot-dogs and the sight of their flowers trampled down and their gardens littered with papers and toy balloons and other such carnival effects, not to mention trying to sleep with the noise of a hurry-gurdy in your ears.

CHAIN LETTERS

To the Editor:—When your columnist, under "Loose Ends," recently wrote: "You can't rear up a fine structure of gentility on the basis of modern business. You can only rear up an aristocracy of stock-brokers," I doubt whether he realized how soon this axiom would be demonstrated in Mayor Leeming's city of culture, any more than the adventurer who mailed the initial chain letter realized the fertility of the soil for such a harvest. Had he done so, I fancy he would have got in touch with a Mr. Sweeney and put over something that would have made Beauharnois look like an amateur enterprise. But, in fairness to the sponsors of this letter, and rather similar "bubbles," as far as I know they did not use blasphemous headings for their circulars, or play on the feelings of their prospective suckers, other than suggest a sure method if "Get-rich-quick"—"Be a sport." Ye gods! There is not a vestige of sport for the rear rank in this chain chicanery. Far more honest would it be to parade the streets rattling a tin in this connection. Now pathetic appeals for the collection of $250 or so last Saturday for the boys from the camps, compared to the colossal aggregate collected by chain capitalists.

Under "Loose Ends" last night the writer suggests that the communists of America must be discouraged by this display of profit taking. Frankly, as a C.C.F'er, I am, and I feel sure the genuine Oxford Groupers must be sorely distressed.

"But money in circulation" is another "chain" catch-phrase. This racket is doing precisely the contrary, stimulating in miniature the capitalist catastrophe which has stagnated our civilization.

It is painfully apparent that the public will take a chance on anything except a change of system which will "give a break" to the youth of today and the children who will be the youth of to-morrow.

THREE HURT AS TRAIN HIT CAR

Nanaimo, May 23. — Philip Piper, member of the firm of D. J. Jenkins Limited, and two Indian boys, Harold John and Harry Wyse, had a narrow escape yesterday evening when the car driven by Mr. Piper was struck by a train near the Indian reserve. The train was backing up a long string of flats when the rear end struck the Piper car, rolling it over and over several times before the engine could be notified, and the train stopped.

Visitors Urged To Use Scenic Highway

With the California Pacific International Exposition to open in San Diego on May 29, the Humboldt County Board of Trade, Eureka, is inviting exposition visitors to travel to and from the southern city via the Redwood Highway. It is pointed out that the highway through the giant Sequoias of Humboldt County is a direct and scenic route, pleasantly cool in summer. During May and June it is adorned with wild flowers, growing in profusion amid the redwoods.

Laurel D. Smith, secretary of the Humboldt County Board of Trade, announces that an information bureau for travelers has been set up in the organization headquarters at

REV. T. MENZIES IS APPOINTED

Former Parliamentarian Is Named to New Church Field on Island

Rev. Thomas Menzies of Victoria, former M.P. for Comox riding, and subsequently superintendent of neglected children in the province, has been appointed by the settlement committee of the B.C. Conference of the United Church, in session at Vancouver this week, to the pastorate of the newly-organized Vancouver Island field embracing Mill Bay, Cobble Hill and Koksalah.

Rev. J. E. Miller, B.A., who recently served at Koksalah, will take over the Pender Island church.

Rev. J. A. Petrie, B.A. of Ashcroft, has been named to the pastorate at Qualicum Beach in succession to Rev. C. E. Finemore, who will transfer to Richmond.

Rev. E. B. Arroll, B.A., will be succeeded at Parksville by Rev. Austin G. Gay, B.A., who for several years has been in charge of the church at Bon Accord, Alta.

CAMP STRIKERS PLAN MEETING

Twenty-one organizations, representing various organizations, attended the conference called by relief camp strikers to discuss ways of abolishing the relief camp system, and the institution of a work with wages programme.

Plans for mass meetings and delegations to responsible authorities demanding relief and fair settlement of the strike were made by a committee at a short preliminary meeting held after the conference.

A delegate, representing camp strikers now in Vancouver, attended. In his report he strongly urged the necessity of the Victoria strike being supported, pointing out that such support in Victoria also constituted assistance to the struggle as a whole in all areas.

A mass meeting under the auspices of the committee of action will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Hall next Monday.

The Eureka Inn, and that maps and descriptive guides of the Redwood region are being distributed. He predicts a large and increasing travel from and to the Pacific northwest via the Redwood Highway.

SPAIN HONORS LINDY'S CAT

JUST EIGHT years ago Charles A. Lindbergh poised for the lone flight to Paris that was to make him the most popular hero in America. Rumor had it that he was going to take a cat along as sole companion. He did not, but this story was just too good for one imaginative stamp designer, who insisted on paying homage to the cat that never flew with Lindy, when he prepared a series of stamps for Spain in 1930.

For, there, on Spain's one peseta stamp, in its special Spanish-American Union issue, sits a black cat almost as large as the head of Lindy himself. And between them is Lindy's airplane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," flying past the Statue of Liberty, over the Atlantic. In fact, everything but Lindy's ham sandwiches and chocolate are shown.

HEALTH PLANS ARE SETTLED

Provinces Primarily Responsible For State Insurance, Says Minister

State health insurance is primarily a matter for provincial authorities to handle. This was the decision of the national health conference recently concluded at Ottawa, according to Hon. G. M. Weir, B.C. Provincial Secretary, who has just returned from attending the meeting.

It was agreed, however, said Dr. Weir, that the Dominion would help in the way of research, and might, if necessary, make grants in aid.

Further development of these policies will await the operation of such schemes.

B.C., meanwhile, will press ahead with its plan as outlined in the tentative bill presented to the last session of the Legislature. Public hearings will be held this summer on the bill.

While in the east, Dr. Weir discussed superannuation with actuaries in Toronto. He engaged Dr. M. A. Mackenzie, one of the leading Canadian actuaries, to hold a watching brief for the province in connection with proposals for a municipal superannuation scheme now under consideration. When the new provincial pension plan went through last session, municipal employees were excluded as they wanted more time to study it and an opportunity to submit their own ideas.

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

(From The Times Files)

"I was never more impressed with the necessity for a settlement of the Songhees Reserve than now. To think that for the past three or four days several hundred Indians have been inhabiting that area right in the heart of the city, where there are absolutely no sanitary facilities is enough to arouse the most lethargic to a sense of the menace to the health of the community which exists right in our midst." was the statement made to The Times this morning from a leading citizen.

London, May 23.—Britain is preparing to send the greatest fleet of warships ever assembled to her colonies in southern and far eastern waters, and up the Pacific Coast to Esquimaux. The armada will consist of fully 200 battleships, armored cruisers, gunboats, torpedo boats and destroyers. It is said the primary object of the cruise is to give the British colonies the spirit of imperialism.

The High School Athletic Club came through to take top honors in the annual Y.M.C.A. meet held Saturday afternoon at Oak Bay Park. The individual club points follow: High School, 46; Y.M.C.A., 41; Boy Scouts, 25; and unattached, 44. The meet was a big success, and judging from Saturday's event, a number of fine athletes are coming to the front. Outstanding competitors were: McCallum, unattached, won the H. E. Beasley Cup, gaining the most points for the unattached; McKay, High School Club, who took the 800 yards and the 440 in nearly record time, and Percy Beasley, Y.M.C.A., won the junior half mile in the time of 2 minutes 58 1-5 seconds.

To-morrow evening Victorians will have an opportunity of hearing what is undoubtedly the finest orchestral organization on this continent, when Walter Damrosch's New York Symphony Orchestra comes to the Victoria Theatre, under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Society.

Miss M. Robinson left for San Francisco on Saturday. Miss Helen Spalding of South Pender Island has returned from an extended visit to England.

Duncan

Duncan, May 23.—A meeting of the Duncan F.T.A. was held in the K. of P. Hall on Tuesday evening, with R. A. Thorpe in the chair. It was decided that the next meeting take the form of a social, with cards and dancing, and at which the teachers will be guests of the parents.

Mrs. A. Leeming reported on the recent F.T.A. convention in Vancouver. R. Hodson, principal of Duncan High School, spoke on the Carnegie grant. The Carnegie Foundation made this grant, which is available through the U.B.C. for adult education. The U.B.C. authorities are trying to find out which is the best way to make use of the money and to have a definite plan to put before the people. They are asking each district to send in suggestions in this

The depressed price of farm products is a problem with which everyone is familiar, but on the 1913 basis farm product prices have never been as low as gasoline. Between 1913 and 1920 gasoline did not rise in price to nearly the same extent as farm products, yet since 1920 its price has almost continuously declined. The data for the above graphs are based on figures published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

A FAIR DEAL POLICY

In the fifty-four years of its existence, Imperial Oil Limited has always welcomed legislation in the interests of labor and the basic industries. It has never had a labor dispute. It has always paid fair wages. To the greatest extent possible it has provided continuous employment and it has given its workers increasing leisure so as to expand employment. It has sickness and death benefits and old age pensions because it believes that the worker and his dependents are entitled to such protection.

Imperial Oil has always tried to deal fairly with collateral industry and with its competitors. Its success in this connection is indicated by the fact that it has never had a major lawsuit. It has always recognized the principle that the only satisfactory business transaction is the one which affords a fair profit to all parties concerned. It has fulfilled all its undertakings. It has enforced no onerous claims on others.

Imperial Oil has always tried to deal fairly with the consumer. It has continuously improved the quality and steadily reduced the prices of its products. It has invested millions to make those products always available wherever they may be needed.

In 1934 Imperial Oil earned $3,023,400.12 from its Canadian manufacturing and marketing operations. This, you may say, is a lot of money, but to earn that amount Imperial Oil had to make and market goods to a value of $82,841,311.15. The storekeeper who in the course of a year sold $8,280 worth of goods and made a profit of $300 would not be regarded as enjoying an undue measure of prosperity. But his ratio of profit to the total volume of his business would be the same as Imperial Oil's.

It has been Imperial Oil's practice to "make wisely, measure truly, trade justly" for this it believes to be the secret of success.

RAILWAY DEPOT IS IMPROVED

Langford, May 23.—Repairs to the waiting and baggage room have been completed, and a new plank platform built at the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway depot.

The new bridge on the Atkins Road, replacing the one built in 1913, is now finished.

Mrs. A. N. Brown left on Tuesday for Courtenay, where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Kirk, Union Bay Road. Pupils of the five schools embraced in the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service area are practicing for the interschool sports to be held on Friday, May 31, at Langford. The health questionnaire compiled by Miss D. White and Miss B. Hull has been answered by the pupils, instead of the essays, slogans and posters usually competed for. The Dola Dunsmuir Challenge Shield will be awarded to the school giving the best answers.

regard. After considerable discussion a committee of three teachers of the high school was appointed to draft an explanatory letter to be sent to service organizations, who will be asked to obtain information and opinions from members and report back to the committee. A committee of which Mr. Hodson is convener was appointed to promote interest in the regional library scheme.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies are applied to sore and painful piles are only local in effect and do not reach to true circulatory cause? Why Piles may "come back" even after a first removal by cutting? Do you know the cause of Piles is internal? That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins bleed, the parts inflame? Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for hemorrhoids or protruding piles discovered by Dr. J. S. Leachard, known as HEM-ROID and sold with your money back if not joyfully satisfied with the help one bottle gives? HEM-ROID handles piles by relieving congested circulation and helps to heal and restore the sore surface. HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that MacParlane and Vancouver Drug Stores, and other good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets to-day—take them as directed—then if not completely satisfied with results—your money back.

MANY WORKING FOR THE BLIND

Victoria Committee Appointed at National Institute Meeting on Mainland

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 23.—Hundreds of blind people have been made a trifle happier through multiple services rendered by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, M. C. Robinson, superintendent of the western division, stated in an address at the annual meeting.

Many blind persons had almost normal sight restored to them during the year by the prevention of blindness department, he said. Several surgeons gave their services free in needy cases.

Mr. Robinson emphasized the added facilities and benefits enjoyed by the blind as a result of establishment of occupational welfare centres for blind people in Vancouver. Organization of a women's auxiliary in Victoria and establishment of district headquarters in Edmonton for northern Alberta had rounded out a plan of development conceived by the institute five years ago.

The treasurer's report showed the institute to be in a strong position. A Victoria committee was named to comprise R. F. Butchart, Fred Landberg and J. L. White. J. L. Trumbell was elected chairman of the institute, with Mrs. C. Green as honorary secretary and E. W. Lamprey as treasurer.

Former Victorian Dies in Seattle

His many old friends in Victoria will regret to learn of the death in Seattle on May 15 at the Swedish Hospital, of Stuart Mannell, former Victoria business man and member of the Pacific Club.

Born in Peterboro, Ont., fifty-eight years ago, Mr. Mannell came west as a young man and became one of the most picturesque figures amongst the miners on Spruce Creek in the Atlin district. Coming to Victoria in 1906 he was identified with various enterprises here, notably as manager of the Silica Brick and Lime Co. Mr. Mannell went later to Bellingham, Wash., where he was identified with various enterprises here, notably as manager of the Silica Brick and Lime Co. Your Baby and Mine

DO NOT LET WHAT "THEY" THINK MAKE YOU IGNORE CHILD'S BEST INTERESTS

The influence of public opinion is often the basis for the mother's action. The public may be no more than a factor in the family—the father or a grandparent perhaps, or it may be a neighbor or relative whose judgment the mother fears.

But the ever-present "they" always looms large in the mother's mind. The child's conduct may be exactly what should be done about it. And the mother, over-anxious to seem conscientious and alert to her duty, acts as "they" expect her to act.

"IF THAT WERE MY CHILD..." None too infrequently a mother administers punishment simply to satisfy the aesthetic impulses of some childless adult who never hesitates to say, "If that were my child."

(Possibly, if it were, she might be more forgiving—but it is so easy to inspire another to do the punishing and thereby fit on the sidelines clucking and congratulating oneself that it is not her offspring.)

On the contrary, let a parent—out of her own judgment—discipline the child and the adult observer turns charitable. "The poor little dear," she broadcasts, "her mother treats her brutally. She will ruin the child."

WILL CHILD BENEFIT? To recognize that her behavior, no matter what it is, can never satisfy an outsider, should strengthen the mother's determination to make her acts accord with only one rule—are they for the child's benefit?

It is the mother, not the spying neighbor—or even the grandparent—who must bear the brunt of the child's future behavior and suffer the success or failure of his personality. The neighbor may do the advising but the parent reaps the results.

BE A QUEEN No one but the parent is in a position to evaluate the child's temporary conduct in comparison with its whole conduct. Mothers know their children and know when an act, apparently heinous, can be overlooked. Mothers must know their children. No outsider can.

Mothers should listen to advice, but if their home is truly their castle they must act in it with queens and not be the slaves of the opinion or the judgments of inexpert outsiders.

Mrs. W. Allison, formerly Mrs. Johnson, was the guest of honor at the Seventy-ninth Club on Tuesday, when Lenora Trickett and Ada Rivers acted as hostesses, assisted by Florence Malcolm. Bridge was enjoyed, with four tables in progress. Crissie Donaldson securing high score and Dorothy Small consolation. The upper table was daintily arranged and centered with a miniature bride and groom surrounded in tulle and yellow tulle. Dorothy Ganner, on behalf of the club, made the presentation.

ROMANCE IS RUMORED

All this marriage talk linking Merle Oberon, British screen star, and David Nevin, late of the Highland Light Infantry and now a film actor, may mean something, but—Merle hasn't said 'Yes' yet. The British couple are shown here on the beach resting from their movie toil in Hollywood.

KING ATTENDS LONDON BALL

Their Majesties Set Precedent By Going to Jubilee Dance at Guildhall

Canadian Press
London, May 23.—The King and Queen yesterday evening set a precedent by attending a brilliant civic Jubilee reception and ball in the historic fifteenth century Guildhall of the City of London.

Given by the Lord Mayor and the Corporation of London, the ball eclipsed in grandeur the functions for which the city is famous.

There is no record in the archives of the Guildhall of a reigning sovereign and his consort visiting in person a ball given there in their honor. It is ninety-eight years since Queen Victoria, in the year of her coronation, attended the Lord Mayor's banquet—the last occasion on which a reigning sovereign attended an evening function in the Guildhall.

RECEIVED BY LORD MAYOR

A glittering throng of nearly 2,000 persons had been present for two hours before the King and Queen arrived. They were received by the Lord Mayor, Sir Stephen Skelly, and the Lady Mayoress, with colorfully garbed sheriffs in attendance.

Proceeding the appearance of the King and Queen, other royal guests were received. These included the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, the Duke of Gloucester, the Princess Royal with her husband, the Earl of Harrowood, Princess Alice and the Earl of Athlone, and the Marquess and Marchioness of Carisbrooke.

A clash between shouting, cheering Communists and mounted and foot police occurred shortly before their Majesties arrived at the Guildhall. The Communists, pushed back, retreated stubbornly and, forming some distance away, shouted at the arriving guests.

The nature of the passing of Mrs. Jane Mout of Ganges Harbor seems a fitting end to one whose whole life has been one of service to her Heavily Master, family and friends.

Called away while still on her Master's work, as a delegate in Vancouver at the annual conference of the United Church, of which she was a devoted member, she leaves a void in the family and social life of the island, impossible to fill.

A woman of wide interests and unbounded sympathies, it is safe to say that no one ever appealed to Mrs. Mout for help (and everyone in trouble did) without receiving comfort, fort and assistance, spiritual and material, and any plan for helping the sick and needy received her willing help and co-operation.

Of pronounced Liberal views politically, she embodied in every sense the liberal meaning of the word, and in the passing of Jane Mout, not only her own intimate friends, but the whole community of Salt Spring Island has lost a friend, and her memory will linger long in the hearts of all who were privileged to know her.

Plan Church Parade—Lodge Primrose No. 22, Daughters of England, will hold a joint church parade on Sunday evening, members to meet outside the Metropolitan Church at 7:30 o'clock.

SMART WEDDINGS IN JUBILEE YEAR

London Churches Very Popular With Brides; Diamonds as Prizes at Gala Balls; Duchess of Kent's New Hats.

London (By Reuters).—London will ring with marriage bells this season, for so many couples are anxious to be married in the Jubilee year, that 1935 may be a record year for weddings.

In an ordinary year London has about 10,000 weddings every quarter, but the figure will probably be much higher this year, for many weddings which would otherwise take place in the country or in big provincial towns will be held in London instead.

"Perhaps some ancestor has been married at a London church or cathedral and the young people wish to be married there also to be linked up with the past," an official of Southwark Cathedral said to a press representative.

"It occasionally happens that there is some other sentimental reason that brings them to us. Before they could be married they would, of course, have to have a residential qualification of fifteen days—that is, three Sundays prior to the wedding, otherwise it would necessitate a special license and a fee of thirty guineas."

A less romantically-minded social worker explained that another reason why provincial people get married in London was that there was less fuss, less "publicity," less criticism by talkative neighbors, and often less expense.

POPULAR CHURCH
One of the most popular wedding churches in London is St. George-the-Martyr, famous as the church of the marriage of Little Dorrit, Dickens's heroine.

"Mass" marriages used to take place at St. George's on Easter Sunday, and sometimes as many as ten couples have knelt at the altar and been married simultaneously. The custom has now been discontinued.

SHE SAW HER MARRIAGE REPEATED
Mention of marriages recalls an interesting function which took place the other day.

This was the marriage of Miss Joan Walker-Smith to Mr. John St. L. Thornton, the athlete, at St. Mark's, North Audley Street.

The feature of it was that the design of the dresses, the floral decorations, and the number of bridesmaids were exactly the same as those at the wedding of Sir John Walker-Smith, M.P., to Lady Walker-Smith, the bride's parents, exactly thirty years ago.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin which matched that worn by her mother, and the train and veil were also similar.

Concession was made to modern fashion by using white moire instead of organza for the bridesmaid's dresses, but the retinue composed of six bridesmaids (three of them children), and a page boy, each of whom carried red and pink carnations, was just as chosen by Lady Walker-Smith on her wedding day.

Three bridesmaids who were at Lady Walker-Smith's wedding attended her daughter's marriage.

THE JUBILEE BALLS
Not for years have there been so many dances, both public and private, as there are this Jubilee season. There are all the usual coming-out dances for the lucky Jubilee debutantes, for which all the well-known hostesses give dinner-parties, and there will also be some out-of-the-ordinary thrills at some of the big organized balls.

At the Hundred Years' Ball at the Dorchester, a very novel cabaret had been arranged, in aid of the R.S.P.C.A.'s free clinics. Well-known society girls took part in "A Century in Retrospect," a ten-minute pageant showing the important inventions of the last hundred years.

They were ingenious costumes portraying radio and gramophones, reinforced concrete, anaesthetics, engineering, and so on, some of them more spectacular than comfortable.

One of the most striking was worn by Lady Patricia Mackay, Lord Inchcape's daughter. She represented aviation, dressed in shining silver and blue.

DIAMONDS AS PRIZES
Then at the Big Ben Ball there were valuable prizes for the dancers, including a pair of diamond and ruby clips worth £200, and at the Empire Ball on May 24, which the Duke and Duchess of Kent attended, one of the prizes was a choice of a pair of diamond clips worth over £200, or a diamond bracelet of the same value.

Later in May there are the Golden Ball and the Silver Ball. At the former, the entertainment included a rain of real golden sovereigns, and lovely jewels to be won by the dancers who secure lucky keys which open a golden casket.

The cotillion is to be introduced at the Silver Ball. This dance has not been seen at a big public ball since the war, so Lady Georgiana Curzon has decided to lead a "silver" cotillion, in which all the guests are expected to join.

Lady Tweedale is collecting silver favors—silver roses for the waiters, mirrors for the police, and for the third figure each dancer must find her own silver slipper, and there will be two surprise prizes at the end.

A WOMAN'S "ACADEMY"
There is no doubt about it, it is a woman's Royal Academy this year. Beautiful women are already smiling down from the gallery walls in unusually large numbers, and there are still more to come.

Miss Edith Evans, the actress, is there in Restoration dress, and Miss Violet Vanbrugh keeps her company. Augustus John has a portrait of Miss Thelma Chaslet, the M.P., while Olga Philipoff has a fine study of Lady Melchett.

The girl with the haunting blue eyes, who attracted such attention last year, will reappear. Gerald Brockhurst, whose portrait of her was bought by Lord Leverhulme for £1,000, has now done a much larger picture of the same girl.

C.G.I.T. CAMP IS PLANNED

Leaders' Council Recommends One Camp This Year, Not Two

The Victoria C.G.I.T. Leaders' Council met at the home of the president, Miss Lilian Parfitt, on Tuesday evening. The meeting was opened by a sing-song, followed by the devotional period in charge of Mrs. C. G. McKenna, who took as her theme "Love for Our Fellow Men."

The business meeting was opened with the roll call of churches and the reading of the minutes by the secretary. This was the last meeting of the season the council felt that it was fitting that their appreciation of the co-operation of the newspaper staffs of both The Colonist and The Times should be expressed.

The Girls' Council report was presented by Miss Nellie Cameron in the absence of the sponsor, Miss Beall. She presented the report of the camp committee, which was enthusiastically discussed by the leaders. Recommendations were made that only one camp be held this year, instead of two, as there were last year. It was decided that up-land groups should be invited to attend the Victoria District Camp, and that a director from the mainland should be invited to take charge of the camp.

The matter of camp leaders was also discussed at length. Miss Olive Lynn, the secretary, presented a report on the facilities for transportation and the approximate cost.

Miss Lilian Parfitt emphasized to the leaders the importance of Senior Provincial Camp, which is held at Ocean Park and is the corresponding activity in girls' work to Older Boys' Parliament.

Following the adjournment of the meeting, refreshments were served by the president.

DESCRIBES LIFE AT SORBONNE

Dr. Kaye Lamb Speaker at Delta Omega Gathering at Mrs. Cameron's

Members and friends of the Alpha Chapter of the Delta Omega Sorority spent a delightful evening at the home of Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Moss Street, yesterday.

As the sorority have just completed a study course on the schools and politics of France, an address by Dr. Kaye Lamb, of the Provincial Archives, on "France" was doubly interesting.

The speaker dealt particularly with the Sorbonne and described various branches of the French University and described the students' life and that of the teachers and their attitude towards the students in class. There is no alma mater attached to the institute and any activities are arranged on the students' own initiative.

As an illustration, Dr. Lamb told of a group formed by the students studying history. For this branch of study the students had marvelous opportunities as the history of France for centuries past was right at hand. The speaker described many of the ancient places to be visited and also recalled many of his experiences while in Paris.

MUSICAL NUMBERS
Miss Grace Genn and Miss Helen Winn delighted the guests with their two-act play of Mout's Sonata. Mr. Alva Weatherall sang "Bole Epais" and "Love Me or Not," accompanied by Mr. Donald Adams. Miss Louise Patterson, the president, expressed thanks to the speaker and guest artists.

The reception rooms were attractive with flowers. The guests were received by Mrs. Cameron and Miss Patterson. Supper was served in the dining-room. Mrs. Cameron presided at the table, the centerpiece of which was a bowl of yellow tulips.

News of Clubwomen

Notices for publication in this column on Saturdays must be written, and handed in not later than Friday afternoon.

Gleaners Active—The regular meeting of the Gleaners was held at the home of the Misses Moore, Pemberton Road, Miss Gladys Schroeder presided. The meeting was opened by a brief devotional service which was followed by the business period in which arrangements were made for a silver tea to be held at the home of Mrs. M. McLaughlin on June 1. Miss Marion Skellern then favored the girls with a piano solo. A resume of a chapter of the study book was given by Miss Joyce Robinson. The guest speaker for the evening was Miss Moseop of the Oriental Home, who gave a very interesting talk on her work with the Oriental children of Victoria. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Gave Convention Report—A splendid report of the thirteenth quadrennial convention of the Women's Benefit Association, held in Vancouver a few weeks ago, was given by Mrs. Mabel Burnett, president of the local review, who acted as official delegate at the meeting held early this week. Mrs. Burnett presided at the meeting, at which there was a large attendance. Mrs. L. Thompson reported that nearly all sick members were improving. Mrs. S. Keefe and Miss Peters were appointed to make arrangements for the memorial service to be held on Sunday, June 16. A dinner party will be held after the dinner. Mrs. L. Le Gallais, provincial health supervisor, gave a short address urging the members to attend the clinic. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

FESTIVITIES AT NANAIMO

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, May 23.—Nanaimo will celebrate Empire Day with an elaborate programme of sports, dances, Indian canoe races, vaudeville shows, grand parade and crowning of the May Queen.

The festivities will last for three days commencing this evening and lasting until Sunday. The celebrations will be climaxed with a big fireworks display on the waterfront. The Malaspina Chapter I.O.G.E. have charge of the May Queen arrangements and have purchased a Victoria coach for the May Queen, Mary Palmer, to ride in. Arrangements have been completed to stage a soccer game here on Sunday with the Vancouver Island all-star team and mainland all-stars. Special excursions are being run from Vancouver and the usual large crowd of visitors is expected. The committee have eliminated the horse races this year, and all festivities will be held in the city. The parade will commence at 12:30 p.m., followed by the crowning of the May Queen on the Central sports grounds and afternoon entertainment. A soccer game between Seattle and Nanaimo will be played this evening.

Uncle Wiggily's Tree Gum

By HOWARD E. GARIS
One day Uncle Wiggily hopped past the Hollow Tree School just as the Lady Mouse Teacher rang the bell which told her that classes were over for the day. Uncle Wiggily, hearing the bell and knowing what it meant, said to himself: "I'll wait until the children come out and I'll hop home with my little bunny boys and girls."

Out from school came the animal children, hopping, skipping, leaping and turning somersaults and wintering. "Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" exclaimed Baby Buntie, the orphan rabbit, as she finished turning a wintering and stood right side up again. "Did you come to meet us to take us adventuring in the woods?" "Not exactly, my dear," answered Mr. Longears, as the other animal boys and girls clustered around him. "I just happened to be passing as you came out." "But now that you are here, won't you please take us adventuring?" asked Buntie. "Yes, I will," answered his father. "I haven't had an adventure yet to-day. Perhaps I may have one if I take you to the woods."

NOT FOR THE WEEDS
Followed by his own bunny rabbit boys and girls, and by some of the other animal pupils, Uncle Wiggily hopped to the woods. Baby Buntie, the orphan rabbit, looked around thinking she might see some Red Chaps, for she knew they often made adventures for Mr. Longears. But she saw none. Since it was now the month of May, many flowers and bushes were growing in the woods. "What flower is this, Dad?" asked Buntie as he placed one paw against a tree to lean down and look at a blossom growing near the roots. "That is a wild geranium," said Mr. Longears. "Are there any tame geraniums here?" asked Buntie, still leaning against the tree. "No," his father told him. "Tame geranium flowers grow in window boxes or in the green houses of florists. But come over here, Buntie, and I will show you where some pitcher plants are growing. Buntie tried to hop over to where his father stood with Jingle and Janie, but the little rabbit boy couldn't get away from the tree against which he had leaned with his paw. "What's the matter, Buntie? Don't you hear Dad calling you?" asked his brother, Cusler.

BUNTIE HELD TIGHT
"I can't get loose! I'm stuck fast! Something is holding me to the tree!" cried Buntie. He tried to pull his paw away but couldn't. "Oh, is that a magic trick, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Buntie. "No, it is just a pine tree," said Uncle Wiggily. "But out of a pine tree comes a very sticky gum, or juice. Buntie has put his paw on the sticky gum, which is like glue." "Oh, will I be stuck here forever?" asked the rabbit boy.

"No, if you pull harder you can get yourself loose from the tree gum," said his father. "You will have a lot of sticky gum on your paw, but when you get home a little butter or grease will take it off." Buntie gave a hard pull and his paw was loosened from the tree. But it was very sticky. "Is this gum good to chew?" he asked. "No," said Uncle Wiggily. "It would stick too fast to your teeth. But over here is a spruce tree. That also has gum, but it isn't as sticky as the gum from the pine tree. You may chew that." The rabbit gentleman broke off some hardened pieces of gum that had oozed out of a spruce tree and soon all the children were chewing. "The spruce gum had a spicy taste and they all liked it. They said it was a jolly adventure. And if the can opener will squeeze all the water out of the spruce cake I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's dog house." (Copyright, 1935, by H. R. Garis.)

Muzz Patrick Wins Canadian Heavyweight Boxing Title

Victory Boy In Great Rally To Score Knockout

Finishes T. Osborne, Montreal, in Second Round, After Being Down Twice

Edmonton, May 23.—Six new champions joined two repeaters as rulers in boxing's domain in Canada today.

Leaving behind battered ribs, bloody noses, and darkened eyes, the hard-hammering titlists were crowned yesterday evening in the Dominion amateur boxing championships which ended after the three-score bouts cut down the field of seventy-four contenders. Three of the titles went to eastern Canada and five to the western provinces.

Two defending titlists fell by the wayside, but Jackie Callura, Hamilton, retained his title in the 118-pound class, and Billy Marguier, Winnipeg, successfully defended his 126-pound title. They were joined as champions by Jack Armstrong, Toronto, 160 pounds; Gordon Elchelt, Regina, 175 pounds; and Murrey "Muzz" Patrick, Victoria, heavyweight.

Most thrilling of the finals was that in the heavyweight class in which Patrick, son of Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers hockey club, defeated Tommy Osborne, Montreal, Quebec champion. Down twice in the first round, and knocked through the ropes once, young Patrick, with a lethal wallop in his right hand, found the range in the second round, after recuperating marvelously following his rest. Osborne elected to slug it out with the second round, probably under the impression that the Victoria boy was weakened. In a flurry on the ropes, Patrick finally got home with a right-hand smash that was dynastic, and the fight was over. Osborne was given a knockout.

Other outstanding winners were: Billy Marguier, in the 126-pound featherweight class; Jackie Callura, in the 118-pound class; and Robin Carrington, Calgary, 135 pounds; Maurice Camyere, Winnipeg, 145 pounds; Irving Peace, Toronto, 160 pounds; Gordon Elchelt, Regina, 175 pounds; and Murrey "Muzz" Patrick, Victoria, heavyweight.

Osborne ran into another passing flurry of rights and lefts and was crashed to the floor again. Coming again on rubber legs, Osborne tried to clinch, but the young Victor scrapper shook him off and battered him again, when the bout was stopped by the referee. The time was 1:29 in the round.

Other outstanding winners were: Billy Marguier, in the 126-pound featherweight class; Jackie Callura, in the 118-pound class; and Robin Carrington, Calgary, 135 pounds; Maurice Camyere, Winnipeg, 145 pounds; Irving Peace, Toronto, 160 pounds; Gordon Elchelt, Regina, 175 pounds; and Murrey "Muzz" Patrick, Victoria, heavyweight.

New York Giants Increase Margin

Pace-setters in Major Baseball

Defeat Pittsburgh Pirates and Cy Blanton 5 to 2 to Take Two-and-a-half-game Lead in National League; Yanks Wallop Chicago Sox to Take Second in American

The theory behind a number of outstanding deals in "bribe," particularly the brand that performs on the pitching mound, since the opening of the current major league ball season has been to add strength to the clubs concerned. But so far very little improvement has been in evidence.

Two players who recently figured in important transactions, George Blalock and George Earnshaw, made their initial efforts for their new clubs yesterday. They met the same fate that came to others, including Carl Fischer, Russ Van Atta and Phil Collins—a lot of trouble.

Blalock managed to do a fair job of scattering eleven Detroit hits in his first start for Philadelphia, but the Athletics didn't get him the runs and he went down 4 to 1. His first pitch was a fastball, a home run by Pete Fox and the Tigers scored again in the fourth and twice in the sixth while Elden Auker pitched a steady game.

Earnshaw wild in hot water from the start because of his own wildness, finally was driven out by a three-run Cincinnati burst in the fifth and the Dodgers went down 5 to 4 although they hammered St. Louis and Don Blanton for four corners in the seventh.

Van Atta, sold by the New York Yanks to the St. Louis Browns, and Fischer, sold by Detroit to the White Sox, both were beaten in their first starts with their new clubs, while Collins won for the St. Louis Cardinals, although he failed to finish against his old club, the Phillies.

As a result of Earnshaw's defeat yesterday, the New York Giants increased their National League lead to two and a half games with a 5 to 2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates and their mound sensation, Cy Blanton. Roy Farnsworth got the better of Blanton on the hill, giving only five hits.

The other National League game saw the Phillies drop into a last-place tie with the Boston Braves as they came out on the short end of a 3 to 2 score against the Cardinals with another Joe Mauer doing the elbowing. Boston was rained out at Chicago.

The New York Yankees registered the day's big gain in a series of American League slugfests. They put together two four-run innings against Young Joe Vance and trounced the league-leading Chicago White Sox 13 to 5 to move into second place.

The victory put them a half-game ahead of Cleveland, whose pitchers failed to hold a five-run lead against the Red Sox and took a 12 to 5 trimming. The Sox scored six runs in the fifth and another six in the eighth with Manager Joe Cronin leading at the plate. The Senators kept pace with Detroit's fifth-place club, taking a half-game behind, by turning back the cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns, 5 to 2.

George Gandy Drives in the Winning Runs in Commercial League Ball Game

Sons of Canada stood a step closer to the Commercial Baseball League leaders to-day, driven there by a three-base hit from the bat of George Gandy. Gandy poked out the three-bagger in the sixth with two on to give the Canadians a 6 to 5 victory over the Tillicums at the Athletic Park yesterday evening.

Tillicums started well, with a couple of runs in the first inning. The Canadians replied with one and then drew even in the second when another runner got home, while the Tillicums went scoreless.

The latter went out in front in the fourth with two more runs against the Sons' one, but the Canadians drew abreast with a tally in the fifth.

Gandy drove in two runners in the Canadians' half of the sixth to put them ahead and the Tillicums could only score one in a seventh-inning rally.

Doug Bone pitched for the Sons, allowing nine safeties, well scattered, and breeding six. Ted Colgate furnished the opposition, giving twelve hits.

ATHLETE'S FUND BEFORE COURT

Chief Justice Morrison Reserves Decision on Money Collected For P. Williams

Canadian Press

Vancouver, May 23.—Judgment was reserved in the British Columbia Supreme Court to-day by Chief Justice Aulay Morrison on an application to vary the terms of the $14,000 Percy Williams Trust Fund so as to authorize the trustees to pay the money to Williams or his family.

The fund had been raised by public subscription in Vancouver following Williams' double triumph in the 100-metre and 200-metre sprints at the 1928 Olympic Games at Amsterdam.

So as to permit Williams to retain his amateur status, the trust deed was worded in such a manner that the trustees were directed to pay $750 a year from the fund to his mother for his education and training in a trade, occupation or profession. A second provision empowered the trustees in their discretion to make such gifts to British Columbia athletes of Olympic standing.

The court was informed 367 of the original 646 subscribers, or 51 per cent of them, had consented to a change in the trust in accordance with Williams' request.

Mr. Davis, counsel, stated the family was now in precarious circumstances.

NO PAYMENTS MADE

Payments have not been made from the fund, since Williams set up in business at Brockton Point with a refreshment stand several years ago.

The trustees are the presidents of the Vancouver Board of Trade, the Canadian Club, Vancouver, and the B.C. Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. The trust deed was entered into in January, 1929.

"It might be more prudent to give the money to the mother than to this improvident young man," commented the chief justice.

Mr. Davis joined out that the trustees, under the deed as it was drawn, cannot give any further money to Williams or to his mother, because the purpose for which the payments were authorized, Williams' education and training, has passed.

Captures National 100-yard Breaststroke Title at Winnipeg Meet

Phyllis Dewar Is Outstanding

Winnipeg, May 23.—Fast-stroking swimmers from coast to coast today were given old man time's cherished records a real drubbing.

With four new marks hung up in the second programme of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association title gala yesterday evening, the natators were primed for their final assault to-night. In the first two nights of swimming, seven new records have been established and eighteen new champions crowned.

Phyllis Dewar, Moose Jaw's gift to Vancouver, stole the show yesterday evening with a time-shattering performance in the women's one-mile Canadian championship. Cutting through the green water like a fish, Miss Dewar smashed four records, winning with a 28:22.5 mile that shunts Irene Pirie's former mark of 25:46.3 into oblivion.

Mary McConkey, one of the meet's glit-est stars, defeated a classy field in the 100 yards women's breaststroke Canadian championship event. The slim-built Edmonton girl was forced to break the Canadian record of 1:16.4 in defeating Marion Moffatt's challenge. Miss McConkey won in 1:13.2-5 and the closeness of the race can be seen when the Vancouver Miss also broke the old mark. Margaret Hutton, Toronto, was an easy third.

Not all the record-breaking was left the weaker sex as Pat Milburn, Robert Pirie, both of Toronto, hung up new times in winning the junior boys' 100 yards backstroke title and the 220 yards men's Canadian freestyle championship, respectively. Milburn inaugurated the new deal in winning by paring the junior backstroke mark to first 1:14 and then young Oak Bay school girl, and leading breast-stroke swimmer for the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, who yesterday evening won the Canadian women's breast stroke championship in the Winnipeg national meet. Winner of the British Columbia provincial title this year, Monica has tried for the Canadian crown at the British Empire Games in 1934. She was runner-up in that event at Hamilton. Much of her success is due to the untiring work of Colin McFadyen, club coach, who accompanied the Victoria girl to the Winnipeg meet.

NEW CHAMPION

1:10 1-5 as compared with the now discarded time of 1:18.

"Bob" Pirie, feared "T" tanker from Toronto, beaten by the beautiful stroking of George Larson, Hamilton, in the final of the 100 yards men's Canadian freestyle title event, when he forced the Aquatic Club star to within one-fifth of a second of the record, came back into his own in the 220 yards freestyle. Pirie had a great duel with Arthur Gairdner, Minneapolis, as the new record of 2:21 1-5 will testify. The Toronto star off two-fifths of a second. Robert Hamilton, Winnipeg, was a good third.

Monica Trump scored Victoria's initial victory of the meet thus far by coming home in front of a four-girl field in the women's 100-yard breast-stroke Dominion title event. Her time was far short of the reigning time, but the 1:23 1-5 century

CUBS READY TO LET KLEIN GO

Former Home Run Slugger May Be Shunted Back to Philadelphia Or Giants

Chicago, May 23.—Do not be surprised one of these days. If you learn Charles Herbert "Chuck" Klein has gone back to his land of milk, money and home runs—the Philadelphia National ball park.

Or, possibly, he may go to the New York Giants, who play their home games at the Polo Grounds where Chuck's favorite target, the right field wall, is only 257 1/2 feet away from home plate.

That Klein may be traded or sold by the Chicago Cubs was learned on good authority today. The Cubs are very willing to part with the slugger who isn't "mugger" for them, only they want some reasonably good player in return.

Klein, who the Cubs obtained for a very large bundle of cash in the fall of 1933, has been a big disappointment here.

Cavalcade Suffers Defeat By Length

New York, May 23.—Cavalcade, Mrs. Isabel Dodge Stone's 1934 Kentucky Derby winner, lost his first start of the season when he was beaten by a length by Mrs. Silas B. Mason's Head Play in the Ben Brush Handicap at Belmont Park yesterday. The Wheatley Stable's Carry Over was third.

was fast enough to beat Vera Tutin, Winnipeg, and Clare Millette, Montreal, who finished in the order named.

Harry Class, Hamilton, was easily the outstanding diver in the seven-man field competing for the men's three-metre spring board diving crown. Some of his dives sent the crowd wild with delight, and it was no surprise when his performance brought him a point total of 148.22, a clear-cut margin over Donald Blair, Winnipeg, who totaled 117.20 for second place. Jack Donohue was third with 112.54.

Only one outside swimmer entered the 220 yards junior girls' Canadian freestyle event, and the first two places went to local girls. Ethel Gilbert nosed out Edith Robertson for the championship, and Roberta McDonald, petite, Fort William Miss, swam into third place. The time of 3:05 4-5 was far above the present mark of 2:54 flat.

Thelma Boughner, Toronto, defending her three-metre springboard diving championship for junior girls, was beaten by Fernie Lount and Betty Morton, Winnipeg. Miss Lount had 54.75 percentage for her dives, Miss Morton 51.51 and Miss Boughner 50.55.

Two Ball Games Here To-morrow

Vancouver Uniteds Oppose Victoria in Holiday Fixtures at Athletic Park at 10.30 and 5.30; Tacoma Players Bolster Local Line-up

One of the sport features to be offered to-morrow will be the two baseball games at the Athletic Park between the Victoria Sons of Canada Club and the Uniteds of the Vancouver Senior League. The morning engagement will start at 10.30 o'clock, and the afternoon exhibition at 5.30 o'clock. Albie McGregor will be in charge.

With the seating accommodation at the park now capable of handling 3,000, through the construction of the bleachers along the third and first base lines, a large crowd is looked for at the games. The diamond, itself, is in the best shape for years, with the grass infield making a much improved playing area.

USE TACOMA PITCHER For the opening game against the Uniteds the Victoria club will send Carroll Friend, a big right-hander from the Olympia Club, Tacoma. Friend is one of the outstanding hurlers in the Timber League. In the afternoon engagement the locals will depend on Lloyd Conn, Lloyd Jones and Leo Holden for mound work.

At shortstop the local nine will have Tommy James, Tacoma, leading hitter in the Northwest League, performing in both engagements. With their line-up bolstered the Victoria team is confident of giving the classy Uniteds stiff opposition. The Uniteds will bring over their regular line-up, and are expected to use big Don Weaver and Ray Watchorn on the hitcock. Both these hurlers have been going over big in the Vancouver League, and are well-known to local fans. Other well-known players on the Vancouver roster are McLennan, West, Smith, Miller, Henry, Coleman, Wickert, McIntyre, Trassolini and Hess.

Cup Bowling At Burnside Greens

The handsome "Empire Day" Cup donated by Major J. P. Hibben will be played for on the Burnside Lawn Bowling Club green to-morrow. The competition will be played on the permanent system and each team will have to play three games, the first of which will commence promptly at 9.30 a.m. The second and third will be played in the afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock. This will give those participating an opportunity to view the parade.

The teams standing highest in each section will probably have to play off to determine the cup holders on Saturday.

Victoria Boy Is Member of Crew

The boat race between the British training ships Conway and Worcester, now an annual event, will take place this year, June 4, on the river Thames. One of the Conway crew will be John A. Stokes, a native son of Victoria and formerly a member of the Rainbow Sea Cadets.

His schoolmates and the sea cadets will look forward with interest to the result of this race.

Five Clubs Enter New Ball League

At an organization meeting held yesterday evening in The Colonist boardroom, the following five clubs expressed their intention of playing in the Junior Baseball League: Eagles, Sons of Canada, Tillamook, Taiyos and Stockers.

The delegates adjourned after discussing tentative plans for the season's play, until Wednesday next. All players wishing to play in the league must be under twenty-one years of age. The final date for the filing of entries is June 1.

A meeting will be held at the Athletic Park on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. All interested are welcome to attend.

McLarnin-Ross Are Now Tapering Off

Principals For Tuesday's Welterweight Championship Fight Will Both Break Camp Saturday and Head For New York; Ross Looks in Fine Shape

Ferndale, N.Y., May 23.—Pagliani suddenly has set up a temporary capital in the Catskills, twenty-five miles over the hills from where Big Van Winkle slept his soundest, but you could wager the old boy would have been up and about quickly had he tried to nap through the present excitement.

Barney Ross, once double champion of the lightweights and welterweights, now no champion at all, is training here at a glorified country club and summer resort for the experts at McLarnin in the Polo Grounds in New York next Tuesday night.

Six miles down the road, at Swan Lake, McLarnin, who lost the welterweight title the first time he tackled Ross a year ago, then won it back last September, is doing similar chores. And over the hills, another four and one-half miles at Loch Sheldrake, Jimmy Braddock, relief roll candidate for the heavyweight championship, is getting ready to fight Max Baer at little later.

ROSS BEST ATTRACTION

It is a composite picture of prize fighting gone Coney Island, for each fighter is the main attraction of a summer resort seeking paying guests. So far rival housekeepers in the neighborhood have found nothing in the code to prevent it. As an attraction, Ross rates first. McLarnin second, and Braddock, thus far, an unheard of third. The experts visit Braddock only in the evening, after everything has been written. His turn at the sports pages does not come until after Ross and McLarnin have had it out in the rubber battle.

Ross, Jewish boy from Chicago, is the hero of the countryside, famous for its Jewish summer hotels. With the training season for the welterweights ending here Saturday, when both break camp and head for final tuneups in New York, Ross's work so far has been most impressive. That of McLarnin, who rarely looks good in practice anyway, Ross, weighing more than 140 pounds, is bigger in shoulders, hits harder, particularly with a right hand, seems faster, stronger and better trained than ever.

McLarnin, twenty-nine as compared with Ross's twenty-six, has been fighting professionally since he was sixteen and his workouts so far indicate that he is rounding slowly into shape. The Vancouver titleholder boxes in a heavy woolen jacket, almost a windbreaker, though his weight is down to a shade under 147 pounds, the welterweight limit. He explains his lack of hitting power in his workouts by pointing out that his sparring partners can't take heavy shocks. A couple of them threaten to come apart every time he waves at them.

According to the announcement made by Ted Taylor, secretary of the Victoria and District Softball League, the following eight teams will make up the league: Harris Cycleists, Top Cleaners, Schmeltz Machineists, Oak Bay Merchants and Strawberry Vale, who have already filed their applications, and St. Louis College, Foul Bay and Speller's Groceries, who are expected to enter soon.

Provisional plans for the opening games, which will be played on Tuesday, May 28, were made at a meeting of the association in The Colonist boardroom.

Continuation of the trial of Clifford Foxall's suit against Massey and Benwick before Mr. Justice Lucas in the Supreme Court has been set over until next Tuesday. The case involves the relations between insurance agents. Judgment in the counter-claim of the same defendants is expected to be made clear that this is a new determination to put into effect the principles of Christianity.

"An Experiment in Co-operation," the story of a local venture in self-help, is the part of a number of the unemployed, will be explained at the meeting of the Cathedral Men's Guild, to be held this evening in the Memorial Hall at 8 o'clock. INTERRED AT ROYAL OAK

The funeral of Mrs. Minnie Hartley, who passed away at the Jubilee Hospital on May 20, took place yesterday afternoon. Relatives and many friends attended the service conducted by Rev. C. L. Jull. The casket was covered with many beautiful flowers. The hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Peace, Perfect Peace." The service was held at the funeral home of Harold Hartley, Sr. sons of the deceased, and Eric Philbrook and Gordon Hartley Jr., acted as pallbearers. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

Warns Against Inn Canvassers

Captain Burgess Gadsden, director of the Sunshine Inn, issued a warning this morning that there were persons canvassing for money for the inn without authority.

The only money that the welfare association would receive from the Victoria Day celebrations would accrue from the programmes being sold. This was a legitimate attempt, suggested by Joe North, to help the inn by giving some value for the donors' money.

MIDWAY MONEY FOR CHARITIES

Proceeds from the Kinsmen "Karnival" midway will be devoted to the club's charity fund, it was announced by officials in charge to-day. Money received from other departments of the show at the Crystal Garden to-morrow evening will be turned over to the May 24 celebration committee entirely to help defray the costs of the festivities.

Revive Trade By Group Principles

Resources of Country Being Mobilized in Spiritual Revolution, Say Leaders of Oxford Group Now Visiting City: Public Meeting Will Be Held Here To-night

Pivotal point of a dynamic group of "life changers," the Empress Hotel is to-day being converted into a spiritual temple. The hotel is a hive of animated activity this afternoon with the arrival of the all-Canadian Oxford Group team by the 1:30 o'clock boat from Seattle, fresh from a successful sojourn across the border.

The party was met at the boat by a large contingent of local groups and a general team conference was afterwards held in the Empress Hotel tea room. A reception will be held at 8 o'clock this evening, preliminary to the public meeting in the Crystal ballroom, commencing at 8:30 o'clock.

SPRITUAL REVOLUTION

The resources of the country are being mobilized in a "spiritual revolution," which will precede the revival of trade, according to Rev. Ray Purdy of Toronto, leader of the national group team.

Solution of the war spirit, which is so predominant in the world to-day, "lies in a spiritual change in the life of the individual," Rev. Mr. Purdy says. "It should be made clear that this is not a new denomination," he said of the Oxford Group. "It is a new determination to put into effect the principles of Christianity."

CO-OPERATION STRESSED

Lewis W. Simms of Saint John, N.B., prominent eastern manufacturer, expressed the opinion that adoption of Oxford Group principles would speed business revival. Mr. Simms says the trip to the Coast has been a wonderful experience, particularly to himself, a business executive for twenty-seven years.

He recalled while on a tour of western Canada in 1928, when he was president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, he had stressed the importance of co-operation, which he believed to be the only answer to national solidarity.

"Since I became interested in the Oxford Group movement I have found myself more humble and better able to co-operate," he said. "I have found a new quality of life and have talked more freely to my partners. If the feeling is genuine, it is contagious," he said. "In the face of helplessness and fear, which is the dominating note in the world to-day, the Oxford Group is giving the world a new strategy for the constructive of Divine strategy that I see as the answer for Canadian business and for the nations," said Mr. Simms.

ERIE BOULEVARD OF TORONTO, former district manager for Standard Brands Limited, Ottawa, is of the opinion that spiritual revolution should be based on consent, and not force.

"Canada is a giving nation of national unity," he said. "In the Oxford Group I see a new national consciousness and a nationhood emerging which will give Canada a new play, spend and invest, marry, raise and educate children, vote and legislate under the guidance of God."

TRANSITION

Mrs. L. G. Cronyn, wife of an exchange broker of Toronto, says the whole world is going through a transition. "I am convinced that in Canada an unprecedented opportunity of leading in a Christian world-planning revolution. On account of our background we should throw out all this and start over."

Miss Mary Norton of Haverhill College and University of Toronto, told of her own participation in the group's work. "I've found in living the way that I get twice as much out of life. There's a purpose and naturalness about it which is twice as satisfying as the old way of aimlessly flitting about," she said.

Mrs. E. A. Bott, whose husband is professor of the department of psychology, University of Toronto, said that she herself is head of the parent study groups in St. George's School for Child Study, said she was "learning about a new form of adult education." In her study groups of mothers, she had been trying to teach them what to do with their children. Now she had learned how to do it herself.

The national team came on to the Coast from Niagara Falls, where a house party was attended by 500 people. The group report success in their efforts at every point visited.

To-morrow morning the group will enjoy themselves in a recreational day and make new contacts. The team will take the afternoon boat for Vancouver, from where the party will proceed to Harrison Hot Springs for a house party on Saturday, and concluding June 3.

Consideration of the question of single unemployed men in the city from camps will be given by Mayor David Leeming and the relief committee. Acting Mayor P. R. Brown told the representatives that he asked for relief for the men to-day.

James Landy, representing the Seamen's Union, Mr. M. Bateson, the Women's League, and J. Garret, the C.C.F. Club of Esquimalt, interviewed the acting mayor to-day. They stated fifty single unemployed were in the city from camps. They needed assistance until the camp strike question was settled.

Acting Mayor Brown promised to take the matter up with the mayor and relief committee and offered the delegates another hearing at 10 o'clock, Monday morning.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

Paso Robles, Calif., May 23.—To the Editor of The Times: Mrs. Rogers and I poking down the road. And we were listening to the President's speech. I don't care if you are for or against the bonus. You have to admit he made what the lawyers call a mighty good brief and he made a long swallow his boast, that the President "was nothing but a politician and wouldn't dare veto the bill."

The best line he had was: "We have enough for everybody but we haven't got all the wheat." And say, you got to give that Hitler credit. He came through with some facts that these other nations are going to have to do some studying to think up answers to. His best line was: "A tank is a tank. A bomb is a bomb. No matter what nation has it."

Yours,

Will Rogers

VICTORIA GETS RELIEF LOAN

Government Advances City $94,500 Against Costs For Last Year

Victoria's relief loan from the provincial government, covering the city's share of direct relief costs up to December 31, 1934, was approved by the cabinet to-day.

The loan is for $94,500, against which the city must deposit a demand note bearing interest at 5 per cent. This represents the amount paid out by the city in direct relief and is being loaned by the government as part of its policy to assist municipalities in meeting the situation.

A loan of $30,000 to the city of People was also arranged to-day. It covers that city's costs up to May 31. With approval of these loans, the total assistance given by the province to municipalities on relief account for the year 1934-35 amounts to approximately $330,000. So far no loan has been made for Vancouver, although it was indicated that city might apply.

Provincial records show that since the beginning of unemployment relief programmes, the municipalities have borrowed well over $1,000,000 from the government for which they are now in debt. The largest part of this was taken in 1931-32 when works schemes were undertaken to provide jobs. The balance of the year alone were $619,845. In 1932-33 when the works programmes were being finished, the loans totaled $447,350. In 1933-34 when everything was done, relief, they dropped to $60,975, but increased last year due to the special assistance policy of the government.

FIRST VISIT REMEMBERED

Francis C. Paterson Reviews Impressions of Victoria 44 Years Ago

Francis C. Paterson, district manager of the British Columbia Telephone Company, sat at his office desk to-day with a single page card before him.

It was the directory of the Victoria Equitable Telephone Company Ltd., 1891 edition, complete with the 363 names of subscribers and their numbers. It recalled his first visit to Victoria, forty-four years ago to-day.

Mr. Paterson recalled Victoria as he had found it then. The Drift House, now the site of part of the store of David Spencer Ltd., was the centre of activity. The celebrated Five Sisters Block, built in honor of the five sisters of Sir James Douglas, was then under construction. It has since been destroyed by fire.

Mount Toulmie was undergoing a survey by J. H. Brownley, his host on that visit, who was studying the district for J. W. Toulmie, father of the former premier.

DAY LIKE TO-DAY

With sun shining and the city beginning to seethe with holiday excitement, Mr. Paterson proudly decided to make his home here at a future date.

Mr. Paterson and his wife made the trip over from the mainland on the old C.P.R. steamer Islander, with its delightful transparent window decorations depicting scenes in British Columbia.

In those days the province, by tacit consent, concentrated on Victoria for its May 24 celebrations and mammoth sports meets at Beacon Hill Park. Vancouver was the centre of activities on Dominion Day and New Westminster held its big event during the Royal City's annual fair.

When the first came here there was no C.P.R. wharf, Mr. Paterson noted. Ships docked at the Hudson's Bay Company wharf at the foot of Yates Street.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

LLOYD W. BASSETT

son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Bassett, 1916 Shakespeare Street, was awarded an honor scholarship for first class general standing at the completion of his fifth year in the Faculties of Medicine and Surgery at the University of Alberta. Mr. Bassett was educated at the Victoria High School and Victoria College, before entering the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Alberta. He recently returned to the city and is spending the summer holidays with his parents.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE

The funeral of Mrs. Marjory Dunn, who passed away in this city on Monday, took place yesterday. Rev. E. F. Church conducted the service, during which the hymns, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Forever With the Lord," were sung. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park, with the following as pallbearers: J. Thorsburn, W. H. Carr, H. Elsmore and J. A. Buckler.

On his first trip to the Pacific Coast, Charles Jackson Booth of Ottawa, president of J. R. Booth Limited, manufacturers of white pine lumber and newspaper paper, and uncle of the former Princess Eric of Denmark, is here to-day. He is accompanied by his wife and their son, E. R. Booth.

"I have been promising myself this trip to the Pacific Coast for a good many years, but failed to put the idea into action until now. It is proving an eye-opener to me. I can assure you I am impressed with the development and potentialities of the west," said Mr. Booth in an interview at the Empress Hotel this morning.

THE BOOTH MILLS AT OTTAWA, of which Mr. Booth is the head, were established in 1857 and are generally recognized as one of the outstanding landmarks of eastern industrial enterprise.

From what J. R. Booth has seen of it, the lumbering industry of British Columbia seems to be in a healthy condition. At least, the mills out here all seem to be working, and that means employment of labor, which is something in "these times," the lumberman said.

While he was in Vancouver, Mr. Booth inspected the MacMillan mills and was greatly interested in the cutting of an 80-inch log, one of the largest ever handled by the plant.

"I am particularly interested in the timber of Vancouver Island and I intend to see something of it while I am here," he said. The Booth party will go up the island within the next few days to see something of the lumbering operations and view Cathedral Grove.

BETTER NEXT FALL

Pointing to a definite improvement in business generally, Mr. Booth speaks optimistically of the future. "I think that by next fall things will be very much better," he said.

"There are too many 'Yes men,' and too few 'No man' these days," he said with reference to the demands being made on governments for financial aid.

"But you are not going to draw me into any controversy," he laughed, dismissing the trend of the interview towards politics.

Mr. Booth has a great many friends here, and he is busy shaking them up. "Where does Co. Lennon live?" he asked. "He is a valued friend of mine. We used to play football together at Queen's."

LAST RITES HELD

The funeral of Hubert Allen Jones, who passed away at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, took place this morning. Rev. O. L. Jull officiating. The hymn sung was "Abide With Me" and Mrs. S. M. Morton rendered the solo, "The King of Love My Shepherd is."

The remains were laid to rest in the family plot at the Royal Oak Burial Park. The pallbearers were: Messrs. A. Barnard, B. White, Richard A. Jones and W. E. Staneland.

Gas Station Site Meets Opposition

Opposition to the re-zoning of the block to permit the erection of a service station on the northwest corner of Cormorant and Douglas Streets, on the site at present occupied by the Commercial Hotel, is voiced in a letter to the Victoria Automobile Dealers' Association, filed at the City Hall to-day.

The letter states that such a station would be a menace to traffic generally since it is located on a busy thoroughfare and is adjacent to busy department headquarters.

Scots' Eleven
Beats Toronto

Touring Footballers Register
3 to 1 Win For Third Victory of Campaign

Toronto, May 23.—Making a vigorous recovery in the second half, the touring Scottish Football Association team defeated a select Toronto eleven, 3 to 1, before 10,000 spectators here yesterday evening. Each side scored one goal in the opening forty-five minutes. Victory in their first Canadian match was the third of the Scots' tour, the team already having won games in Philadelphia and New York.

W. Miller, Partick Thistle player, opened the scoring after ten minutes play with a fine shot from close in.

J. Aiken, sterling Uster United inside forward, equalized before half-time, after W. Stevenson, in the visitors' goal, had misjudged a shot and was well out of position.

Miller obtained a second, following a smart piece of work by Hugh Gallacher. The great Derby County centre forward was himself responsible for the third and final counter, converting a well-placed corner by Main.

The line-ups:

Scottish F.A.—Goal, W. Stevenson

(Clyde); fullbacks, A. Anderson

(Hearns) and R. McDonald (Rangers);

halfbacks, P. Wilson (Hibernians), T.

Smith (Kilmarnock) and R. Fraser

(Aberdeen); forwards, R. Main (Rangers), W. Miller (Partick Thistle), H.

Gallacher (Derby County), W. Mills

(Aberdeen) and D. Duncan (Derby

County).

Toronto—Goal, L. Woolcott; fullbacks, W. Davison and C. Davis; half-backs, J. Cluifow, K. Sanvig and J.

Bagan; forwards, R. Main (Rangers), W. Miller (Partick Thistle), H.

Gallacher (Derby County), W. Mills

(Aberdeen) and D. Duncan (Derby

County).

League totals: National, 132; American, 121. Total, 253.

HUSKY CREW

FARES BADLY

Washington's Famous Undefeated Sophomore Eight

Is Away Off Color

Seattle, May 23.—Washington's famous "light-cylinder" sophomore crew is missing so badly in practice it may miss out on the Varsity race in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie, N.Y.,

next month.

It is an "undefeated" crew, having won the national freshman chamionship last year and the Pacific Coast Varsity crown this season by conquering California, but it takes a beating every day from the senior

Husky eight and may wind up as a junior-varsity competitor in the east.

Coch Al Urickson readily admits the Sophomores have him worried.

In a two-mile time trial last week the oldsters won by four lengths. In another two-mile row this week at a set, slow beat of twenty-six the vietans finished two lengths in front.

"I am going to give the Sophomores one more chance in a few days over the three-mile distance," said the harrassed Husky mentor. "It they don't get to swinging together by then it will be too late to fool around any longer, and they will have to row

in the Jayvee instead of the Varsity race at Poughkeepsie."

LEADING HURLER

Los Angeles, May 23.—Sam Gibson,

San Francisco's sturdy right-hand

hurler, continued to lead the Coast

League pitching standings to-day with a record of six victories without a defeat.

Tied for second were two Los Angeles moundmen, Glen Gabler, a rookie, and J. Millard Campbell, veteran, with four wins each in as many official starts. Tom (Lefty) Flynn,

Sacramento, took the lead in strikeouts during the last week with a total of thirty-three to his credit.
